

Leading Systems Integrator teams with DataBank to deliver high performance Business Process Automation and Workflow.

eDocument Resources, LLC (eDoc) announced today that it has been acquired by DataBank IMX, LLC (DataBank).

“The acquisition of eDoc further cements our leadership position in the Enterprise Content Management industry” said Chuck Bauer, Co-founder & CEO of DataBank. “eDoc brings an exceptional wealth of human capital, expands our solutions capabilities particularly within the State & Local Government, Insurance and Healthcare markets, widens our client base and extends our geographic coverage. We are fortunate to have Ken Schempp and Matt Charlson, co-founders of eDoc, joining the DataBank team to play an integral role in developing our business across the USA.”

eDoc is a leading Systems Integrator specializing in imaging, workflow, data capture and enterprise content management, all focused to provide clients with world class Business Process Automation. They offer solutions nationally but historically have concentrated in the Central US. Their experience spans a wide range of industries and applications with particular expertise in State and Local Government markets. eDoc has distinguished themselves as a multi-year Platinum Reseller of OnBase Software and a Hyland Software Diamond Support Partner. Their outstanding team of solutions analysts, solutions engineers and project managers will contribute substantially DataBank’s future success.

“eDoc has an outstanding leadership team, a veteran group of business process subject matter experts, software solutions analysts as well as technical systems implementation talent that will contribute substantially to our client’s successful business process re-engineering,” states David Godiksen, VP of DataBank’s Software Solutions Group. “The combination of eDoc with extensive State and Local Government experience for Business Process Automation and DataBank’s nationwide document conversion capabilities and growing SharePoint practice will enhance the solutions offering for clients of both companies.”

The eDoc team will go to market as DataBank and be headquartered in Minneapolis, MN. Their new office facilities in Lincoln, NE are expected to accommodate growth in that region over the coming years to include up to 100 staff.

“Our team is very excited to join the DataBank family and we look forward to working together to combine and leverage our unique strengths across a larger organization,” said Ken Schempp, CEO of eDoc. “Existing customers of DataBank will benefit from our deep expertise delivering successful departmental and enterprise ECM solutions, while existing eDoc customers will benefit from an expanded solution offering of Business Process Automation services including digital mailroom and application process outsourcing.”
